Once there was a little old man who can't read. He just never wanted to learn. His wife bought all the food. The little old man stayed at home and made lovely toys out of wood. Children loved his toys and (they) wrote to tell him. But the old man couldn't read their letters. One day, his wife had to go on a trip. The old man went to the store at night to buy his food by himself. There were rows and rows of cans and boxes without pictures. He couldn't read anything and he didn't like to ask. The old man went home with no food. By the next morning, he was very hungry. When his wife came back, he told her what happened to him. "Please teach me how to read," he said.
