Part two: A) Read the following passage then choose the best answer to the questions below: (2) points each.2

In many ways, travelling is much easier and faster than it was in the past. But travelling fast doesn't always mean travelling in comfort. For many people, long plane flights are unpleasant. For some people, flying can even be dangerous because passengers in plane have to sit still. In fact, doctors say that sitting for a long time is not good for you when you sit still for many hours, your blood doesn't flow well, especially in your legs. When the blood stops flowing well, you may get a blood clot in your legs. This can be painful. It can also have more serious effects on your health. If the blood clot breaks up, the small clots can then travel to another parts of the body. If they get into the lungs, the heart, or the brain, there is risk of death. To prevent that you should try to keep your blood flowing well during a long flight, you can get up now and then and walk down the aisle. Many airline companies now show videos that explain how to do these exercises. They are just simple movements of the arms, legs and head, but they help the blood flows better.
